Competence Single-sourced

Autb Martin Geiger

Efficiency trainer Martin Geiger, born 1968, composes his lectures, seminars and coaching's with his own methods and teachings. Based on the credo of putting theory immediately into practice, it has stood the test through years of every-day business. His clients, most of which entrepreneurs and executives, appreciate his workshops for helping them to increase their own efficiency – commensurably and with a lasting effect! This has earned Martin Geiger, who is a member of the Allianz Deutscher Management Trainer, a reputation of being a real hands-on trainer. He understands how to motivate and, at the same time, entertain whilst sharing his know-how and delighting his listeners with a with a fine sense of humor.

„The key to success is not the right knowledge, but the right use of it!“

REFERENCES & PRESS

Alongside numerous publications Martin Geiger consolidates his status of being a top-ranking efficiency coach by working with managers and executives of well-known companies such as Mann + Hummel, Herbalife, Burda, Opel, WWK-Versicherung, Badenia Bausparkasse or the Wirtschaftsclub Düsseldorf.

„His principles on successful self management originate from experiences made in the management and motivation of over 1.000 employees and clients. His methods can be put into practice right away, helping you to take your life into your own hands and make your dreams come true.“

Live Magazin

„You just have to see this yourself: his positive aura, authenticity, passion are really convincing. Thank you for this day full of enthusiasm.“

Heike Pilz, Viwa Limousinenservice

„First things first: LiSA works! As the CEO of an advertising agency I arrived with a great deal of expectations and tasks. In those two days of intensive training I have not just received many helpful tips and tools for my every-day work, but had so much fun as well. Since this seminar LiSA is enriching me – professionally and personally.“

Bernd Ahlers, AhlersHeinel Werbeagentur

„All my expectations were fulfilled. I would participate again anytime.“

Claudia Eich, Eich Agentur für Telefonmarketing

TOPICS & CONTENTS

Better results and greater efficiency – how to speed up your pace instantly

Our working environments are increasingly complex; to get everything done some days really would have to be 48 hours long. Many things are put on the shelf – too many requests, tasks and activities absorb our attention. To stay competitive nowadays, we are forced to take on more and more in formations in less time; therefore the question is not if we have to change, but will we be quick enough!

Changing from knowing how to doing it now!

I won't be able to achieve better results tomorrow as long as I am today working with yesterday's time management! Maximizing business-related working pace requires an increase in personal output efficiency! But the most important thing is: You will be put into motion promptly and soon learn how to be quicker in your routines and schedules. Get on the fast lane to success – and you will win the race!
